Game Officials - Check assignments

You do not have any teams on your account participating in this event.

Assignments

1: First select the Date of games you would like to view, select the site, and click "VIEW". The games will now populate for that date and venue, as shown below.

2: You will see empty boxes to the right of each game listed. They will say R, R1, RA, and so on. These are representing the blocks for Refs and Assistant Refs. Click in a box to fill in your name and assign yourself to this game. You can now click the "Self Assignments" button to save this. Before clicking the "Self Assignments" button, you can click the "C" to the right of your name to remove yourself from that assignment box.

3: Below, you will now see the assignments you have given yourself, as well as any assignments an assignor has given to you. You can check the "Decline" box and click the "Accept/Decline" button to remove any of your own assignments. You will have the ability to click accept for any assignments an assignor has given to you.

4: You will only be able to see games that are so far out. The League may limit your ability to self assign games more than 2 weeks away or more. Also, you may not be able to decline an accepted assignment a certain amount of time/days before a game takes place.

On this very same page but up further, you will see this box. It will highlight any dates and times you have games assigned.

You can click the "PRINT" button to get a PDF printout of all of your assignments.

You can click "PROFILE" to edit your information and to edit when you are and are not available to be assigned games.
